

Did you know worshipping God is a quid pro quo arrangement?

Some youth told me they like and love God, but for that time they would pursue wealth, fun and pleasure. When they are old and satisfied, they would come and seek God earnestly.

Their thoughts were based on the premise that worshipping God is a reward-less, sombre and joyless action. They thought honouring God did not give one room to have fun, look for wealth and have pleasure.

Conversely, God is described as a happy God. He thus wants you to have fun, look for wealth, have pleasure and live your life abundantly. Anyone living by God's principles will amass and retain wealth whether he openly acknowledges Him or not. This is because God sends sunshine and rain to both the wicked and the righteous; when people follow His principles whether they acknowledge Him openly or not, they will benefit.

The distinguishing factor between those who have gotten wealth through living in line with God's principles and those who have used dubious means is the ability to retain the wealth.

The former endures from generation to generation while the later barely endures for two generations.

We can learn God's principles by watching nature or reading the Bible. You can thereafter acknowledge Him, ask what you want and He will give it to you. In fact, the eyes of God are constantly roving all over the earth to strengthen and reward those who are seeking him.

This book is intended to encourage you that whatever you are doing for the sake of God's name in truth as opposed to hypocrisy, rest assured he shall repay you back. But do not wait for Him to pay you unspecified payments, ask Him what you want. If you are ready to receive it, he will give it to you. If you are not ready, he will give it to your children and grandchildren. The blessing of God makes one rich and adds no pain to it. Therefore he will withhold something if you have not prepared yourself to receive it. If you are not ready to receive something, it would be painful to you rather than a blessing.

Enjoy reading.

ISBN 978-9914-9692-9-0

9 789914 969290

God Rewards you for acknowledging Him

Felix Indure

GOD REWARDS YOU FOR ACKNOWLEDGING HIM

God Will Provide,
Protect,
Defend and
Keep You Safe from
All Hidden Dangers and
Deadly Diseases

Felix Indure