Dedication

(Theme song is Daddy by Kenyatta Culture Hill)

[Grandpa Macharia, I came to your resting place Machariaini (in search)]

To My Dad, Sir John Njiru Macharia.

Ours was a short stint together,

That left an indelible mark.

Next time we meet; I will be older than you were (Going by the “first moments in Heaven Painting”).

It Seems heaven was in dire need of a young,
energetic man to complete their mansion
housing project.

Those who knew you will attest that if I was to give your name an acrostic touch like your son, Tosh does, it is;

Noble,

Jovial,

Intelligent and Respectful man who was

Ultra generous

Mom always raves you were the best thing that happened to her.

I pray our other siblings, wherever they are, we shall one day all reunite,

I'm sure you would love that.

Kids used to taunt me because of the name 'Njiru', now, I wear it as a badge of honor.

Yeah, and your legacy still goes on,

You are a grandpa.

We shall always be grateful we ~~had~~ have you.

To God be thy Glory.

Acknowledgment

(Theme song; Mbarikiwe by Joy Simon)

Nature abhors vacuum. The family of John Njiru Macharia will forever be grateful to the following people who /have continuously stepped in to fill the void left.

Lady Kellen Njiru for holding the family together while preserving the dignity /respect of John Njiru Macharia even in his absentia. Thank you to Lady Kellen Njiru for living up to your popular phrase “Mimi ndiye baba na Mama (I’m the dad and mom).

Thank you to Uncle Mugo and your family. You made our childhood Christmases worthwhile. You were the Santa even when it wasn’t Christmas.

Benard Njiru; your selflessness is incomprehensible.

When recently (In 2020) I discovered we were related twice, my mind attempted to substantiate your selfless kindness which I terribly failed. As it hit me it wasn’t about the ties. Yours was a personal decision /commitment.

Dad, the void you left seems to have been filled by a battalion of selfless women the likes of;

- ❖ Mama Waithera
- ❖ Mama Emmanuel
- ❖ Mama Barbra
- ❖ Mercy Kiarie
- ❖ Obi Waithera

Our family will forever be grateful for the role played by the above-mentioned women.

Thank you, Bishop Eva Chege for being an ally as all our family battles have been fought and won through prayers.

Thank you, Auntie Hellen, for all always rooting for us.

And to Ann Mwangi, thank you for being the sister.

We are grateful to Charles Nyaga in advance.

Our family is /will entirely be grateful to everyone who has come through for us.

If a child could adopt a parent, I would adopt you, John Gatete. God bless you.

Lastly as a family, we acknowledge the Lord almighty for living up to His words from the book of Psalms 68:5.

Disclaimer

No graves were tampered with during the collection of the epitaphs.

The only casualty during the collection of the epitaphs was the death of a talking stage with Lily.

During the initial days of getting to know Lily she used to be pissed off by my response of “My day was good, how about yours?” every time she asked how my day was.

She encouraged me to give details every time she posed the question. Oblivious to the paraphrased saying, “There is the devil in the detail”

I learnt fast, and things were moving well until the day she asked me, “How was your day? I went into detail about how I spent my day at Langata Cemetery collecting epitaphs.

This must have freaked her, and the talking stage suffered a sudden death. Allow me to write an epitaph to that talking stage.

At least, let’s give the talking stage a name. We shall pick the first two letters of the name Lily and the first Initial of my publishing name.

We have given birth to the name Lin to refer to the talking stage that unfortunately died. Now to that epitaph.

“Here lies Lim,

Full of endless possibilities, but gone too soon.

Rest in peace, Lim.”

E&EO

Preface

I would have loved to give a profound reason for doing this book, unfortunately profound got shocked, choked and died.

Profound is marked in unmarked grounds in the pages of this book.

The book is not supposed to be profound in any way neither is meant to be spooky. However, that is not for me to decide but you.

The book title states as it is. It's a collection of epitaphs. Who would have thought the message from the epitaphs could feed our body, mind and spirit?

For feeding the mind and the spirit flip through the pages.

For feeding the body this how we shall go about it; 30% of the profit from the sale of each book shall go to Kibera Day Care Center for the Elderly (KDCCE) feeding program.

This book is divided into two parts; Feeding from the Cemetery and Feeding from the Cemetery Scripture based.

Now that profound is out of our can we dig in and see what we shall unpack?

Any part of the book that is not in English I have done my best to translate it into English and is under ()

“Pater noster, qui es in caelis, sanctificetur nomen tuum.

Adveniat regnum tuum.

Fiat voluntas tua,

sicut in caelo, et in terra.

Panem nostrum quotidianum da nobis
hodie,

et dimitte nobis debita nostra,

sicut et nos dimittimus debitoribus nostris.

Et ne nos inducas in tentationem,

sed libera nos a malo.

Amen.”

[Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come;
thy will be done,
in earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
For ever and ever. Amen.]

Final Destination Request

When my time comes to be laid to rest next to my dad. I would love my coffin to be carried by six pallbearers.

One to represent family, the second to represent friends, the third one to represent authors, the fourth one to represent Stand Up comedians, the fifth to represent speakers and the sixth one to represent martial arts practitioners.

I would love to be buried in black jeans and a white T-shirt printed 'Father, forgive me for I've sinned against you and your people'

During the burial, when the coffin is being lowered, a few of my jokes should be played. After which, the song 21 Gun Salute by Chan Dizzy should be played.

The clergy should take it over from there.

Lest I forget, there should be no need for a written eulogy. After all, everyone present should grab a copy of my autobiography.

Let's Personalize our Epitaphs

My Epitaph

Here lies M.D. Njiru the Artist.

His life, just like his art, would sometimes bomb, and at other times, it would be a blast.

All in all, it was a Bomb Blast.

(Aside)

In comedy, when a performer does 'badly' they have bombed and if they did well, we can say the performance was a blast.

What would you like to be written as your epitaph?

Death is imminent -let's immortalize

Death is imminent. Luckily, we are living at an age where we can immortalize ourselves.

We can immortalize ourselves through leaving pictures, videos, speeches, recordings, journals, books and memories for the next generations.

In our own little ways. We should ensure the memories of the departed don't fade away. We can take cue from the movie Coco.

Conclusion

Death is imminent. Can we at least live and immortalize ourselves while at it?
